Dear Parent,

Holidays are a good time to take a break from the daily routine. It is the time to enjoy the simple pleasure of spending precious time with your ward. Children can indulge in hobbies, meet friends and extended family members. We would like to suggest a few activities that will make your child more independent and help in the development of various skills.

- Take your child for a morning walk to Lodhi Garden. Count trees, cars, stones, flowers etc. during the walk. Inculcate the habit of keeping one's surroundings clean.
- Spend quality time with your child by taking him/her to the National Rail Museum and for boating to India Gate.
- Children can participate in activities like laying the table, watering plants, arranging books and toys, learning to wear shoes and socks on a daily basis.
- Play games with your child like Ludo, Carrom, and Building Blocks.
- Help your child learn the names of two indoor plants that purify the air.

Children's movies are a great way to build vocabulary and further improve speaking skills. We recommend the following for your child's viewing pleasure.

- The Incredibles
- Zootopia
- Toy Story

A bowl of popcorn while watching a movie will add to the fun .

- Make bed time reading a ritual with your child. Use age appropriate books with pictures and large text.

- Music and rhymes are an integral part of childhood. Help your child learn one English song and one Hindi poem which she/ he will present in the class after the school reopens.
- Children participate in Art and Craft activities with a lot of zeal and enthusiasm. Let your child make anything of her/ his choice using YouTube as a guide (kindly ensure it is done under adult supervision and the content is age appropriate). Please send the art and craft work to school in a paper bag made by the child.
- Please send a family picture of any one of the outings with the date, place and names mentioned on it.
- Hobbies and physical activities are very important for the holistic development of the child .Encourage your child to join at least one hobby and one outdoor activity during the summer vacations.
