We, in alliance with Rotary International, organised a free of cost health check-up for the underprivileged section of the society, on Saturday, 04 February, 2023. We endorsed our solidarity for the noble cause of alleviating poverty and ignorance by hosting seven beauty pageants from the African continent, Miss Faith Kachenga Mukonk, Miss Angela Malenga, Miss Mwila Masongo, Miss Nalavwe Chinakila, Miss Doris Couvaras, and Miss Beauty Katebe along with Sayali Bhagat, former Miss India and an actress. Each one of them has traversed an awe-inspiring journey of success and are committed to bring about environmental, mental and physical wellbeing of children.

Tagoreans, Meher Guwalani and Mishka Khurana, seek edits in the United Nations Document
The students from schools and NGOs across India representing diverse socio-economic-linguistic and regional backgrounds, as well as those from varied abilities and disabilities, had joined the fortnight-long 'Inclusive YoUth Negotiations' (IN-U.N) to unearth the evolving GC 26 which the world member states of the United Nations are scheduled to adopt in September 2023. Ms. Mikiko Otani, the United Nations Chair of the Committee on the Rights of the Child listened to more than 300 children from over 140 schools and NGOs across India, as they presented their recommendations on the draft of UN General Comment 26 (GC 26) that seeks to articulate the environmental rights of children.

IN-U.N was a wonderful and interactive session in which students got to express their ideas on how to tackle the new climate change. In the session, students of various schools and NGOs across India gave their recommendations to improve the General Comment 26 Draft. It truly opened my eyes to the new ideas that many of us have to tackle climate change. As Vince Lombardi said, "Perfection is not attainable, but if we chase perfection we can catch excellence."
Meher Guwalani, Class IX C
Tagore International School EOK New Delhi

This seminar educated me more about General Comment 26 and how a healthy environment plays an important role towards building a child's personality. Students from all over the country contributed to the discussions. Many of my team members even prepared creative presentations to make a child friendly version of this official document. I got to know issues which children of different areas face and was able to pitch in some recommendations regarding the same. I highly appreciate the fact that the UN is trying to incorporate suggestions given by children for whom this document has been drafted. This will definitely enhance its quality and make it even more effective.
